Rose 'Flower Carpet Amber'

Many times referred to as the "Wonder Rose", the Flower Carpet groundcover roses are some of the most popular roses available today. This is because of their long flowering period, easy care, disease resistance and drought tolerance. Known as prolific bloomers; a well grown two to three year old plant can provide over 2,000 flowers per bush in a season.

Uses

These groundcover roses are excellent for any garden or exposed site. They look great mass planted.

Preferred Position & Soil

To promote flowering, cut back by half once annually in late Winter or early Spring. For maximum flowering and performance, feed with a controlled release rose fertiliser in early Spring and again in late Summer. Once established they will withstand dry conditions.
